An Army General (Prabhas) has all the qualities of a capable leader. (Like what his ancestors did) But he has a problem with his father (Rana) because he wants to be his own man. His father tells him that if he fails to complete his duty and the mission, he will not forgive him. After the death of his father, he leaves the army. When he gets home, he learns that his father has died. So, he rushes back to the army to avenge his father's death. He leads an army to go against a ruthless tyrant. But, what he does not know, is that the king and his brother are plotting behind his back and they are waiting for the army to go around the hill. Inside the palace, as the army is about to engage in battle, a mongoose kills the king and his brother. So, without the King and his brother, it's a war between the two brothers, which ends in a very brutal manner. "Baahubali: The Conclusion" is directed by SS Rajamouli. And, Prabhas is a rajasekar. He is the son of Krishnasamy Raja and Lakshmana Raja. Well, Krishnasamy is the elder brother of Prabhas. He is the King of the Mahishmathi kingdom. Krishnasamy is a brave person who fought and freed his kingdom from demons. He won the war single-handedly. But, he got into a fatal car accident which caused his death. He died in front of his son. He was a very stern person. But, he was also very nice and kind. He did not let the child know that he was his father. (This is one of the reasons why he didn't forgive his son) The other brother Lakshmana is married to a devotee. He is a very gentle person. It is now time for the child to know the identity of his father and mother, which he was always denied by Lakshmana. To do so, he goes with the help of a mongoose to the kingdom where Krishnasamy lives. There, he will meet his biological father. He will meet his biological mother. He f678ea9f9e
